Central Board Candidates State Campaign Policies

By MARY STEADMAN and JOHN BENNITT

Candidates for sophomore and junior delegates to Central Board have indicated an overwhelming opposition to the proposed revision of the ASMSU constitution.

The candidates largely indicated opposition to the referendum calling for a $2 activity fee reduction and an optional $5 payment on the $10 athletic fee.

From the eight sophomores seeking the post of junior delegate to Central Board four will be eliminated in Thursday's primary election. From the remaining four, two will be elected to Central Board in the general election May 5. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will win a two-year seat on Central Board.

Two of the six freshmen running for sophomore delegate to Central Board will be eliminated in the primary election. From the remaining four, two will be chosen in the general election. The candidate with the highest number of votes will hold office for two years.

Voting in the primary election Thursday is in the Yellowstone Room of the Lodge.

Juniors

Marcia Holmes, an education major, said that the revised constitution does not allow a student to be president and attend school at the same time.

Miss Holmes believes that representation to Central Board by living groups rather than classes would improve the efficiency of student government.

John Carlson, a history major, favors re-incorporation of the Associated Students' Store because such a move will result in better control of the store. Carlson said the proposed constitution revision has no continuity and that its separation of powers theory is not adaptable to the University student body.

Carlson said that the added $2 in the activity fee could be put to good use in financing tours by student groups such as Jubileers and Masquers.

Bob Means, psychology major, said he opposes the proposed revision of the ASMSU constitution on the grounds it is not necessary. He said that any problems Central Board may have had last year were functional rather than structural.

He believes the problems lie primarily in the committee system.

Means said that the additional $2 in the activity fee could be used to advantage. He mentioned specifically hiring "name bands," giving additional financial aid to campus publications, debate, dramatics and similar student activities. He also said that he believed minor sports should receive additional financial support from the student body.

Means said that the argument advanced by certain parties that a surplus existed in ASMSU student activity funds was invalid. Means explained his statement by pointing out that when the additional $2 was voted in by the student body last spring, the present ASMSU budget had been drawn and approved. He said that the 1959-60 student body budget did not account for the additional $2.

Wayne Finney, math major, believed that because of the continuing controversy surrounding Central Board "something must be wrong."

Finney refused to say whether or not he would support the proposed ASMSU constitution. However, he added that it contained several points with which he agreed.

He commended the authors of the document for their courage in "doing something about the weak points in student government."

Finney said he would prefer to study the proposed fee reductions before commenting on them.

He did not say that he supported a re-incorporation of the student store but added that unless precautions were taken student control of the store could "get out of hand."

Skip Meyer, an education major, believes damage has been done to both the University and student government because "99 per cent" of the student body are more concerned about themselves than about the ultimate good of the University.

Referring specifically to the proposals to reduce athletic and activity fees, Meyer said that he believed students could afford the present fees.

Meyer said he believes student government should work toward establishing an improved Judicial Council. He said that such a body, free from administrative control, would operate effectively and in the best interests of the students and University.

Meyer commended the present ASMSU committee system but added that he believed it could be improved. He said that if the committees could operate more independently of Central Board in planning and carrying out their proposals, student government would operate more efficiently.

Jay Hess, a pharmacy major, criticized Central Board for its continuous refusal to act as a spokesman for the student body. He said student government concentrates on technicalities not issues.

Hess said the revised constitution discriminates against large segments of the campus and has a poor representation scheme.

He said the present class representation system on Central Board is adequate.

Hess believes the committee system of government is inefficient and needs improvements.

Sharon Dodge, an English major, believes the present representation on Central Board is too small.

She emphasized that the additional members should not come from specified living groups but from the classes they represent.

Miss Dodge said the proposed constitution revision was too radical for the student body's present needs. She said that some definite changes were needed in stu-

Fiedler Receives Fulbright Award

Leslie A. Fiedler, professor of English, announced that he has been granted a Fulbright Fellowship to Greece for the 1960-61 academic year. He said the award is for a lectureship in American literature at the University of Athens.

Mr. Fiedler explained that he had originally been asked to apply for the fellowship by members of faculty of the Liege University in Belgium.

"Somewhere along the line in the (U. S.) State Department it must have been decided to change my application to the University of Athens," Mr. Fiedler said.

He said that he is glad the change was made. "This will give me a chance to observe the old Greek art and literature."

This is the second Fulbright fellowship that Mr. Fiedler has received. From 1951 to 1953 he was at the University of Rome and the University of Bologna.

Mr. Fiedler said that he did not know when he planned to leave.

dent government but added that they could be effected within the present structure of the constitution.

Sophomores

David Brownman, a physical science major, believes in "responsible democratic government procedures," and says that the proposed constitution is undemocratic and dictatorial.

He was recently endorsed by the United Student Party for the position which he is seeking. He said he is gratified for the additional support, but he is not affiliated with the party. He said he does not agree with all of its policies.

Commenting on the platform of the United Student Party, he said he is against the voluntary physical education program, but he is in favor of the voluntary ROTC program.

Clem Johnson said he is against the proposed revised constitution.

He preferred not to comment on the re-incorporation of the student store and the long range athletic plans.

Robert (Buzz) Romstad, a physics major, believes the representation under the proposed constitution would not be proportional to the interested groups. He said there is no continuity of representative terms—no carry-over members from year to year.

He cited the lack of an elected business manager as a weak point in the proposed constitution.

Romstad has been serving a one-year term on Central Board. From his experience, he thinks there could be more coordination in the committee system which would relieve the vice president of many unnecessary tasks which he is now required to do.

Larry Riley, a history and political science major, doesn't believe that the president should have the veto power called for in the proposed constitution. He also is against the policy of requiring the president and vice president to run together.

Dale Hallock was unavailable for comment.

Ellen Sheire, political science and history major, said she is opposed to definite points in the proposed constitution. She believes the method of representation is "highly illogical." She points out that the largest number of representatives for one group would be those from off campus.

Miss Sheire said is definitely opposed to Mongar's persuasive methods such as the United Student Party platform which was recently issued. She says the issue at stake is whether the students want the proposed revised constitution, not whether they want voluntary ROTC and physical education programs.

Ed Whitelaw, forestry major, says there are deficiencies in the present system, but that is not reason to abolish the entire government.

He was endorsed by the United Student Party, and said he is honored by their support. However, he said he is not in agreement with all of the planks of the party platform, and is not affiliated with the party.

WUS Hits Goal With $1400, Women Granted Late Hours

The University raised over $1,400 last week in the annual World University Service campaign. Two o'clock hours were granted to the University women Friday night because the $1,000 goal was surpassed.

The Chinese Auction brought in $1,050 although the bidding began slowly. The highest single item was the Sigma Nu barbecue which was sold to Delta Gamma for $150. Kappa Alpha Theta forfeited $137 as second highest bidder.

Other auction items included the sorority presidents, who were sold for a day of work, the Sigma Nu white cross, and a surprise package which contained Miss MSU, Patti Jo Shaw.

The Spurs and Bear Paws bought the SAE bus from Turner Hall and returned it to the rightful owners. Bertha had been recaptured prior to the auction so she was not sold as had been planned.

Delta Gamma was the highest single buyer. It spent $230 on the Sigma Nu barbecue, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon pizza dinner, the Sigma Phi Epsilon Chinese dinner, and the Delta Sigma Phi turkey dinner.

Over 300 people attended the Variety Show Thursday night to add $83 to the WUS fund. Faculty donations added another $7.

Eileen Weingartner, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Wayne Hovey, Sigma Phi Epsilon, were selected the "Ugliest Couple on Campus." The total amount raised in the Ugly Couple Contest was $201.

Desserts given up by the various living groups contributed another $80 to the WUS fund.

The successful campaign was due in part to Don Hooper's publicity stunt, Betty Hall, WUS committee chairman, said. People contributed to the Ugly Couple contest in an effort to get Hooper off the roof and out of the cold, she said.

Miss Hall was assisted by a committee of fifteen members. Joanne Askevold, Jan McFarlane, Bobbi Miller and Diane Drew acted as subcommittee heads.

Job Opportunities, Federal Exams To Be Discussed

Walter M. Ward, recruiting representative, U.S. Civil Service Commission, will be on campus April 27 and 28, Robert Gorman, placement director, announced yesterday.

This is a follow-up visit for the Career Day program last fall. It will be the last opportunity this year for students to discuss federal employment with a commission representative, Dr. Gorman said.

Mr. Ward's primary emphasis will be on the federal service entrance examination, Dr. Gorman said. Copies of a brochure dealing with the examination are available at the Placement Office.

"Business" administration, social science and liberal arts majors will be particularly interested in this brochure," Dr. Gorman said. "Even though students will not complete graduation requirements until after the summer quarter, they should discuss employment opportunities with Mr. Ward."

Students who wish to schedule interviews should contact the placement office in Jumbo Hall before April 27, Dr. Gorman said.

Box Office Opens For Ticket Sales

Tickets are now on sale for the Masquer original one-act plays to be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15 in the Masquer Theater.

The tickets are 75 cents general admission and 50 cents for students. The box office is open from noon to 5 p.m. every day this week.

The plays to be presented are "Days Like Smoke" and "An Exchange" by Alan Goddard, "The Spring Meadows" by Marta Cramer and Bonnie Stauffer, and "The Practical Joke" by Roy Miller.

Committee Suggests Abolishing University Executive Boards

HELENA (UPI)—The Montana Legislative Council's sub-committee on education said yesterday it will suggest abolishing local executive boards of the state's six university units.

The council planned to take final action on the proposal at its next meeting, May 15-17, in Missoula.

The people who are now serving on the University's executive board are Theodore Jacobs, Mrs. Thomas E. Mulrone, and Alex M. Stepanzoff. The board was appointed by the governor with the approval of the State Board of Education. The purpose of the board is to serve as a liaison board between the University and the community.

The subcommittee said that when the university units were established the local executive boards had some general authority, but in recent years they have evolved into agencies merely to assist university unit presidents with public relations.

The group said it felt that a board of university regents and the university presidents would provide enough authority for governing the schools.

Yesterday's action was taken as the council moved toward completion of its objective of re-writing suggested changes in state laws in the event the voters approve a constitutional amendment creating a separate eight-member Board of University Regents. The measure will be on the November ballot. If approved, it will become effective July 1, 1961.

IKE-DEGAULLE END TALKS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Presidents Eisenhower and Charles de Gaulle of France yesterday concluded their pre-summit strategy talks with an agreement that disarmament should have top priority at next month's Paris meeting with Nikita S. Khrushchev.

KOREANS RIOT, DEFY RHEE

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—Ten thousand angry Koreans rioted yesterday in defiance of army troops and tanks in a wild new demonstration in which 500 students tried to lynch Lee Ki Poong, the controversial vice president.

It was a massive defiance of Syngman Rhee, a near uprising aimed at forcing him to resign and give South Korea a real democracy without the graft and corruption the students said brought Lee to office last March. With screaming violence the rioters rejected Rhee's proffered reforms and demanded that he quit outright.

Why Change Horses Now?

The Kaimin presented an editorial analysis of the revised constitution proposal during the first week of this quarter. At that time we evaluated the document in an attempt to acquaint students with both the good and bad points. We also expressed our opinion that the constitution was not suited to ASMSU government.

Since, we have published arguments both for and against the constitution and its supporters, and published sections of the constitution in an earnest effort to acquaint students with the proposal so that the referendum vote might be an educated one rather than guesswork.

The Kaimin still urges you to vote "no" on Referendum Proposal C (against the adoption of the Revised Draft Constitution.) In doing so, we do not deny the need for reforms of the present system. We feel, however, that these reforms should be undertaken within the framework of the system itself, perhaps, by a representative student group willing to compromise and conciliate.

We are against the adoption of the revised constitution for the following reasons:

We feel that its financial approach is unrealistic for our student government. An annual student vote authorizing all budgetary allotments over five per cent of activity fees is ridiculous and would result in a total lack of continuity and efficiency in the operations of the Sentinel, the athletic department and the Kaimin.

The needed number of improvements required by this constitution for financial matters is also ridiculous. The simplest budgetary request could get bogged down in haggling and vetoes for months. The more controversial budget requests could be deliberately stalled by administrative red tape even longer.

We believe that the executive officer would have too much power—not power to accomplish, but power to hinder.

Lastly, adoption of a totally new system, so unlike our present one, would result in complete governmental chaos. The proposal has been presented by a very small student group, many of whom will no longer be University students next year, and none of whom will hold student government offices.

The newly elected officers would have to interpret a totally new constitution with no established precedents to guide them and none of the authors of the document to advise them.

Again we urge you, vote "no" on Referendum C.

Guthrie Gives View On MSC's Refusal

To the Kaimin:

Montana State College could accommodate the spectacle of a fist fight. It could not accommodate the appearance of Dr. Leslie Fiedler, a distinguished if controversial literary critic and a University teacher whom, however one may disagree with his judgments, Montana is lucky to have.

Marshall Supports Proposed Fee Cut

To the Kaimin:

When someone tries to tell me how fantastically trivial five dollars is, and how eager I should be to contribute it to the Athletic Department, it is expedient that I express my views concerning athletics and my five dollars.

To begin with, I don't enjoy giving expression to my philanthropic nature by making it possible for an athlete to go to school by a contribution I can ill afford.

Secondly, last year's five dollar increase is just a small part of the obnoxious fee. Every year, my wife (also a student) and I shell out $60 in athletic fees from which we receive absolutely no returns. Does this seem like a trifling amount?

Aside from the fact that I really can't afford to pay the athletic fee, I would like to add that I don't want to pay it. It might startle Mr. Gibson, who wrote a letter to the Kaimin Friday, to learn that football does not provide entertainment for all, and I, for one, am not the least bit interested in it—MSU-type or otherwise. If Mr. Gibson will empathize with me, I think he will understand why I pay my athletic fee in such a begrudging fashion.

Mr. Gibson infers the only way a prospective employer has of knowing the name of the applicant's Alma Mater is by the quality of its Athletic Department. This is utter rubbish. The reputation of a school is not only gained through its athletic department and the relative success of its football team, but also by the excellence of its several departments and the quality of its faculty.

In my opinion, Mr. Gibson's letter is a good example of the faulty reasoning which prevails concerning the current athletic fee controversy.

Central Board Approves Two More as Candidates

Bryce "Skip" Meyer and Ellen Sheire were approved as candidates for Central Board in a special meeting of Central Board Saturday morning.

Meyer is running for one of the junior delegate positions and Miss Sheire is running for one of the sophomore positions.

The misunderstanding in validating the two petitions resulted from errors in the registrar's office, Barbara Lee, elections committee chairman, said.

Welch Announces Plans To Be Write-In Candidate

Cyril Welch, junior philosophy major, says he has entered the race for ASMSU president as a write-in candidate.

Welch stated his intention to seek office and his campaign platform on a mimeographed sheet circulated on campus yesterday.

The United Student Party, in another mimeographed sheet that appeared on campus yesterday, indicated its support of Welch and other candidates.

Montana Will Play WMCE In Campbell Park Today

Montana's baseball team returns to Campbell Park this afternoon after a week-long junket to Utah that saw the Grizzlies win three and lose three.

Depending on the weather, the Montana nine is scheduled to meet Western Montana College of Education today at 3 p.m. Coach Hal Sherbeck said that he would use pitchers Butch Hendricks, Ken Wimett and Ed Komac in today's non-conference game and start the squad that saw regular action on the Utah trip.

Two of Montana's wins on the road were at the expense of Utah State University as the Grizzlies swept a double-header 8 to 5 and 14 to 2 Friday. The other win was against Utah University, the current leader in the Western division of the Skyline Conference. The Ute's have a conference record of 3 wins and 1 loss.

Montana's twin victories Friday were sparked by the bat of Terry Screnar. The tall first baseman hit six times in seven trips to the plate Friday, including one home run. Third baseman John Matte also collected a round-tripper in the double-header.

Sherbeck commended the defense of the Grizzlies and praised

Utah Beats MSC In Salt Lake Meet

Utah University whipped Montana State College Saturday 85½ to 45½ in a track meet at Salt Lake City.

No records were set at the meet because of a wet track that hampered the runners.

Seats, Press Box To be Remodeled

Dornblaser Stadium is scheduled for a $30,000 face-lifting in about a month.

F. W. Krieger, University superintendent of buildings and grounds, said work on the stadium will begin as soon after the annual Interscholastic meet as possible.

The job includes removing the present seats in the west bleachers and installing new ones, construction of a new press box and a general reinforcement of the stadium. Dornblaser Stadium was constructed in 1924.

Krieger said that some of the wooden forms needed in reinforcing the foundation of the structure were constructed this winter. He added that the seating sections would be entirely replaced.

The new press box will be larger than the present one. There will be room for 25 writers, and booths for radio and public address announcers.

Proposed Constitution Changes

In the interest of informed student voters for the upcoming elections, the Kaimin is printing the following articles and sections of the revised draft of the ASMSU Constitution. The parts presented here are those that the Kaimin feels constitute the major differences in the present and the proposed form of government.

Article II

Section 1. The Legislative power of the association is vested in the Student Senate constituted in the following manner: one delegate from Elrod Hall; one delegate from Turner Hall; two delegates from Craig-Duniway Hall; two delegates from Brantly-Corbin-North-Corbin Hall; three delegates from all fraternities; three delegates from all sororities; four delegates from students living off campus; two faculty delegates. Total of eighteen (18) delegates. All delegates shall have one vote in all business conducted by the Student Senate. The Speaker of the Student Senate shall vote only when his vote would change the result of a vote by the Student Senate.

Section 3. Delegates to the Student Senate shall be elected from the membership of the political subdivision of which he is a resident. A vacancy in the Student Senate shall be filled for the unexpired term as provided by law. If no provision is made, the President of the association shall fill the vacancy by appointment.

Section 11. All bills raising or appropriating money shall originate in the Student Senate. The Student Senate shall have the power to lay and collect fees for the support of authorized student activities with the approval of the State Board of Education. The Student Senate shall not commit any portion of student funds for any period in excess of five (5) per cent of the total Student Activity Fee without a referendum of the members of the association. The Student Senate shall not commit any portion of student funds for any period in excess of one year without a referendum of the members of the association.

Section 12. Before any Student Activity becomes eligible to receive funds, it must first be authorized by the Student Senate. Upon its authorization, a student activity shall be placed under the administrative control of the President who shall place it in the appropriate operating department. Upon completion of this process, it may request operating funds by application to the head of the department. Upon adjustment of the request to meet presidential policy by the Bureau of the Budget, the President may transmit the request to the Student Senate for consideration.

Section 14. The President of the association may veto bills passed by the Student Senate. He may, by veto, strike or reduce items in appropriation bills. He shall return the vetoed bill, with a statement of his objections, to the Student Senate.

Article III

Section 1. The executive power of the association is vested in the President.

Section 3. There shall be a Vice President. He shall have the same qualifications as the President and shall serve the same term of office as the President. He shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law and as may be delegated him by the President.

Section 11. The President may make changes in the organization of the executive branch or in the assignment of functions among its units which he considers necessary for efficient administration. Where the changes require the force of law, they shall be set forth in executive orders. The Student Senate shall have twenty (20) days to disapprove these executive orders. # Ghost Charge Haunts Lucky Strike's Dr. Frood

Dear Dr. Frood: I am writing my term paper and would like to know how the average professor differentiates between research and plagiarism?

Lit. Major

Dear Lit: Plagiarism is when you copy your paper from a book. Research is when you copy your paper from more than one book.

Dear Dr. Frood: I was shocked when I read of ghostwriting firms preparing term papers for certain college students. But I was doubly horrified, upset and stunned when I heard a rumor that you, Dr. Frood, also use a ghost. Tell me it isn't so, Doctor.

Jacob Marley

Dear Jacob: I categorically deny your accusation. I do not use, nor have I ever used, a ghost to write this column. I admit, however, that when confronted with certain difficult student problems, I have called upon my late departed Uncle Purdy for advice and counsel.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have just been informed that there are over 100 brands of cigarettes on the market today. Why so many?

Harvey J. Wamerdam

Dear Harvey: Conceivably, there are 100 people in the country who do not smoke Luckies.

© A. T. Co.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a sophomore who has finally mastered every syllable of the Whiffenpoof Song. To my chagrin, I have just discovered that I am not attending Yale. Any suggestions?

Jivy Leaguer

Dear Jivy: Fake it, man, fake it!

Dear Dr. Frood: I have just completed my doctorate thesis on "The Socio-Political-Religio-Economic Aspects of Tribal Development in Central Africa, 1805-1809." I believe my work has immense popular appeal and would like to have it published in pocket-book form. How does one go about doing this?

Ethelbert Pingbank

Dear Ethelbert: One changes the title to "Love-Starved in Mau Mau Land."

Dear Dr. Frood: I am going nuts—nuts, I tell you!—trying to solve this puzzle. Please! What is the secret?

Puzzled

Dear Puzzled:

Dear Dr. Frood: I didn't make the crew because I get seasick. I couldn't make the baseball team because the resin bag gives me a rash. I was kicked off the track team because cinders kept getting in my eye. And I had to drop tennis because I get vertigo watching the ball go back and forth. What can a great athlete like myself do now?

Sig Lee

Dear Sig: Why don't you expose over-emphasis of college athletics in a leading national magazine?
